Reliable removal of rust

Weicon Rust Remover Gel

The manufacturer of speciality chemical products Weicon has developed a new product to remove rust and tarnish quickly and completely – Weicon Rust Remover Gel.

High reaction speed

The rust remover gel can be used on ferrous steel, brushed stainless steel, copper, brass, chrome and silver. It has a high reaction speed, penetrates very well and is very economical. The gel removes tarnish in just a few seconds. The rust removal process can take between 15 minutes and 12 hours, depending on the degree of corrosion.

The blue gel does not need to be heated before use and is applied at room temperature. The rust remover, made from natural substances, is free of solvents. Weicon Rust Remover Gel can be used in various areas of industry and trade.

Easy to use

Thoroughly clean the area to be treated. Apply Weicon Rust Remover Gel with a brush. The treated area should be kept as moist as possible, for example, by wrapping it in film to prevent the gel from drying out. Depending on the degree of rusting, allow it to take effect. Then rinse thoroughly with water and dry. If necessary, the process can be repeated several times. Promptly apply a top coat to the highly active surface after treatment.
